Exploratory Expeditionary Art Adventure Team Call for Volunteers

With apologies to Melville:

"Call me Billy X. ... I've come upon a legend, perhaps a false legend, but nonetheless a legend worthy of note. It concerns the lost New Amsterdam Passage."

Billy X. Curmano has proposed an Exploratory Expeditionary Art Adventure Team to search for a passage connecting the East and Hudson Rivers.

The project is part of the ART IN ODD PLACES (AiOP) 2017 SENSE Festival running October 12 - October 15, 2017 from the Hudson River to Avenue C on 14th Street in New York City. Billy has agreed to serve as keynote speaker for the festival. He envisions a colorful and celebratory journey with ceremonial performances bringing Greetings from His Mississippi River to the waters of New York.

You could become a part of this amazing art adventure. We are looking for a few good people to fill out the Exploratory Expeditionary Art Adventure Team. As with most explorers, we could really use an indigenous guide to find what may well already be there. Artists, musicians, arty-types, techies and performers of any ilk are especially welcome to apply. Team members will explore the passageway with historic Chelsea, Gramercy, Union & Stuyvesant Squares, and the Meatpacking & Flat Iron Districts to the North and Alphabet City, the East, West and Greenwich Villages to the South with a stop on and under the Highline.

Team members will cover their own expenses, but will be given advice on where to stay and how to play. Application is free for Fan Club Members, but a nonrefundable application fee of $15 is requested from the masses.
